

WILL Folk call another extra session?

WE do not believe that Folk materially advanced his candidacy for the United States Senate through the extra session.

DAVE DYER, acquitted of the charge of stealing $81,500 from the sub-treasury in St. Louis, is selected by the President for the purpose of going to Sweden as the special representative of the United States and apprehend a bank cashier, whom it is alleged embezzled something like $3,000. We suppose that the appointment was made on the theory that the big man can catch the little man.

It is said that the reorganized Board of Managers of State Hospital No. 4, at Farmington, will make Theo. D. Fisher, of the Farmington Times, treasurer of the institution. We don't know how much pay there is in the job, but if there is any money in it, we're glad Bro. Fisher is going to get it. He richly deserves some reward for faithful service to the party.

THE Houston Post says: "And as for Mr. Harriman? Why is Mr. Harriman more 'undesirable' now than in 1904 when he was raising a quarter of a million dollars to aid in Mr. Roosevelt's election? It was 'My Dear Mr. Harriman' then. He was recognized as a 'practical' man and as such was invited to raise a slush fund of which Mr. Roosevelt was the beneficiary. He was later invited to visit Washington to discuss policies before the President's message was written. Has Mr. Harriman changed his viewpoint since 1904 or has the President?"

J. B. HIGHLEY went to Kansas City the first of the week and bought several fine milch cows for the State Hospital. —Farmington News.

Why don't Mr. Highley buy his cows in Southeast Missouri? It is a hard enough slam on the doctors of this part of the State for the Governor to appoint a Kansas City man as superintendent. —De Soto Press.

Southeast Missouri raises the finest cattle in the country, but for the past three years everything used at No. 4 must come from "Kansas City." —Lead Bell News.

THE REGISTER is in receipt of the initial number of Home-Rule, edited by ex-Senator J. R. Burton, at Abilene, Kansas. I have read every line in its sixteen pages with great pleasure and satisfaction, and heartily commend it to every citizen desirous of regaining and re-establishing his rights as an American Sovereign. I am unable in this issue to say all that one ought to in behalf of so worthy an adventure and so creditable an attempt as Editor Burton presents to the public. If the Home-Rule attains the success it deserves it will soon be a great factor on the right side of State and National policies.

Futures.

The Wall Street Journal is becoming uneasy. It says: "For centuries the supreme question was how shall the great majority secure liberty and equality of opportunity against the power of the small privileged minority. The time may come when the problem will be reversed, and when the question shall be how to preserve the rights of the small minority against the power of the great majority. Looking at it from every point of view the tyranny of a despotic majority can be more unjust and do more harm than the tyranny of a despotic minority."

The Journal is looking far into the future for trouble. So long as the American people provide, in their tariff, shelter for the trusts that oppress them; so long as they give to the national bankers the privilege of loaning the people's money to the people; so long as a handful of men are permitted to control the insurance business of the country and a coterie of "captains of finance" are permitted to manage the transportation business; so long as the trust magnates are allowed to fix the price the producer receives and the price the consumer pays; so long as every agency of man and of government—the farmer's product, the means of transportation, the State Legislature, the Congress and all too often the court itself—seems to have been created for the special use and benefit of men who neither toil nor spin, and so long as men who raise a voice in protest against these conditions are discouraged in their good efforts by the failure of their fellows to appreciate their labor, or by the attacks of an ignorant or a venal press—there is not great need for worry concerning "the tyranny of a despotic majority!"

Let the Wall Street Journal direct its attention to the undue power wielded in this country by "the small privileged minority." —The Commoner.
